1.2 Information of the SSPA

- Retroactively to July 2009 the Swiss National Bank corrected its data due to an additional differentiation between bonds and structured products in bank deposits which resulted in a shift in product categories. A comparison of the data before and after July 2009 is therefore difficult and the possibility to compare data collected before July 2009 with the SSPA categorization is limited.
- A new version of the Swiss Derivative Map is available since October 2009.
- For more information about product types, footnotes and the Swiss Derivative Map, visit the association website: www.sspa-association.ch.
- On this website one can also find information about issuer creditworthiness and the newly launched SVSP Risk Figure (SVSP Risk Rating) which estimates a structured product's market risk on basis of the Value at Risk (VaR) approach.
