Swiss Structured Products Association (SSPA):

Meyerlustenberger Lachenal AG is new SSPA member

The Swiss Structured Products Association (SSPA) welcomes Meyerlustenberger Lachenal AG to its ranks as a new member and partner. The membership of the internationally active corporate law firm with a strong presence in Switzerland, means that the Association has secured its tenth partner, further expanding its base. It now has a total of 35 members, from issuers through the buy-side to markets and partners.

Zurich, 10th July 2018. As one of the biggest business law firms in Switzerland, Meyerlustenberger Lachenal AG has around 100 attorneys-at-law at its sites in Zurich, Geneva, Zug and Lausanne. With a representative office in Brussels, it also has a good network at the European level. Its clients include banks, financial service providers, listed corporations, fintech companies as well as various enterprises in a range of industrial sectors.

Ülkü Cibik, Senior Associate at Meyerlustenberger Lachenal AG, commented on joining the SSPA as follows: “I am looking forward to being able to support the Association as well as our clients with our proven know-how and long-standing experience in the field of structured products.” Christoph Heiz, Senior Partner at Meyerlustenberger Lachenal AG, added: “As a leading business law firm, we have for many years advised our clients in the structured products field within an increasingly complex regulatory environment. We are planning to continue expanding our expertise in the coming years and are looking forward to actively contributing our experience and know-how to the Association.”

Active industry association with 35 members

SSPA represents the interests of the most important market participants, which together cover more than 95 percent of the market volume for structured products in Switzerland. SSPA President Georg von Wattenwyl: “We warmly welcome the new member to our Association. With Meyerlustenberger Lachenal AG we are pleased to have our tenth partner member on board. Our Association has a broad market base and benefits from the wide-ranging expertise and experience of its members.”
