

Swiss Structured Products Association (SSPA) media release:

SSPA welcomes cleversoft as a new Partner member

The Swiss Structured Products Association (SSPA) welcomes cleversoft as a new Partner member. With the addition of the internationally active RegTech provider, the Association further strengthens its expertise in digital infrastructure, regulatory technology and issuance solutions for Structured Products. The SSPA now brings together 55 members from across the entire value chain of Switzerland’s Structured Products industry.

Zurich – 8 June 2026. The Swiss Structured Products Association (SSPA) continues to expand its network and welcomes cleversoft as a new Partner member. The Munich-headquartered RegTech provider brings extensive expertise in digital advisory, compliance and Structured Products issuance automation to the Association.

Founded in 2004, cleversoft is a leading cloud-based RegTech provider for the financial services industry. The company supports more than 1,200 financial institutions across Europe and the Middle East with solutions covering digital advisory and compliance, supervisory reporting, financial crime prevention and financial messaging. Headquartered in Munich, cleversoft employs more than 320 professionals and operates from offices across Europe and the Middle East. Within the Structured Products ecosystem, cleversoft provides issuance documentation automation, lifecycle management, template administration and data distribution solutions. The company covers the full SSPA/EUSIPA derivatives map and supports a broad range of issuance and OTC structures.

Zoran Strbenac, Senior Sales Director at cleversoft, on the new membership: “Joining the SSPA represents an important step for cleversoft as we continue to expand our Structured Products and RegTech offering in Switzerland and beyond. We look forward to collaborating with industry participants and supporting innovation and efficiency across the market.”

SSPA represents key participants in the Structured Products market

As the leading industry association for Structured Products in Switzerland, the SSPA brings together 55 members from across the entire value chain of the market. Welcoming the new member, SSPA President Georg von Wattenwyl states: “We are very pleased to welcome cleversoft to the SSPA. As a leading RegTech provider with strong expertise in digital issuance and compliance solutions, cleversoft brings valuable technological know-how and innovation capabilities to our Association.”
